William Lloyd Garrison
125 Highland St.
Boston,
Mass

Boston. 15 Ashland Place. Feb. 28th 31 1878.

Friend Garrison,

You have been talking of coming to see me, and, independent of being always glad to see you, I want you to come for an especial reason.

Anna Whitney, 92 Mt Vernon St. is remarkable, both as a woman and an artist. She warmly sympathized with the Anti-Slavery struggle, and is an enlightened friend of all sorts of progress. She has just made a model of John Brown's head, in clay; and she very much wants you to look at it, becau you personally knew John Brown. You can see it a any hour of the day, at her studio, 92 Mount Vernon St

Do go.

Yours cordially,

L. Maria Child.

MS A.12.40 #17